WORLD BOOK DAY
2024

Thursday 7th March

Happy World Book Day

Let's play a game.

Everyone has different books...

Different ways of housing them...

Different hobbies and interests...

So... how much does it tell you about a person?

Your World Book Day Challenge is to try and solve, as a group, which bookcases (or book 'cases') belong to which department at Tute.

Easy, right?

Here are your department choices!
(They may turn up more than once!)

tuté

A small department at Tute but one with lots of skills. It looks as though this department has some historical classics hiding...

Guess in the poll:

A: English

B: Maths

C: Humanities

Did you get that right?
Those beautiful classics are capturing history! Humanities covers so much from the subject to these heaving shelves!

Guess in the poll:

~~A: English~~

~~B: Maths~~

C: Humanities

tuté

These bookshelves are really organised.
This department must be the same...

There are some very neat shelves here. This department likes ordered rows. I wonder if they've ever considered how many books they own?

Guess in the poll:

A: Science

B: Maths

C: Primary

tuté

That's right, the Maths department has a collection of books that are above average reads! There were some hints in there from our Mathematicians... Did you spot them?
