WE ARE DELIGHTED THAT YOU ARE CONSIDERING A CAREER AT TUTE!

Dear candidate

Thank you for your interest in this role and in joining the Tute team. Many job adverts claim that 'it's an exciting time to join' but this is 100% the reality at Tute, and as the director leading the partnerships team (marketing, partner engagement and partner success) I am very excited about our future and the opportunities we have. Everyone in the business shares the Tute vision. It's this shared goal, alongside a robust business plan, that is driving our exceptional growth – we're on track for a 40% increase in revenue this academic year and a further 30% the following year.

To support this growth, we are expanding our marketing team to enable us to focus on generating new business, widening the reach of both our brand and our solutions, and improving our engagement with our existing partners/customers. We're looking for someone to focus on the benefits of our curriculums, our teaching approach and our quality, with engaging and segmented campaigns to generate new business and to support the partner success team's objectives to enrol more students and widen the use of our different curriculums within our existing loyal partner base. You'll need to be a collaborative team member, happy working closely with others whilst also having the skills and confidence to work independently and efficiently. The marketing team, and the wider partnerships team, are a committed and fun team and we welcome customer-focused ideas and value insights and data-driven recommendations to make everything we do as impactful and effective as possible. Your experience of product marketing, ideally within the education sector, will bring new ideas and insights to the team and you will be confident with utilising different channels to reach our target audiences.

This pack should give you a good idea of what we and the role are all about. If you like what you read and think you have the experience, energined we'd be very pleased to hear from you. For further information, please contact Carol Skitt, Head of People, Culture, and Social Responsible on 07787444178 or at carol.skitt@tute.com. We look forward to hearing from you!
